Total Grandchildren of Hans Dinesen.....74

NOTE: There is some question about Kirsten Rasmusdatter, the 4th listed wife. It is listed here because she is shown in FamilySearch.org as his wife. In Hans' journal, in the last entry on the last page he refers to his 3 wives; there is no mention of a 4th wife anywhere in the journal (except for those he was sealed to and who were already deceased). However, he stopped writing in his journal in early 1888. The sealing to Kirsten supposedly took place in 1892 when Hans would have been 68. He lived another 11 years. So, it is possible he married Kirsten after the he stopped writing in the journal. The other problem with this entry is the birthdate of the daughter Rasmine Sophia Rasmusdatter who was posted as born in 1833 when Hans would have been only 9 years old! With her name being listed as "Rasmusdatter" it seems she might have been the daughter of Hans' Father Rasmus and therefore Hans' younger sister; however, there is no mention of a sister that fits the time and date, nor are her parents names given in the ancestral file records. Interesting, also, is that Hans and Johanne named their first daughter Anne (or Ane) Kirstine Dinesen, a possible recognition of an "aunt Kirsten". But, then on another occasion Hans mentions leaving for America and departing from his "only sister's house"; this was in 1852.

Another matter yet to be unraveled is why the children of Rasmine Rasmusdatter and Andrew Apelgren (who, by the way is father to Maria Charlotta Aplegren who married Christian Dinesen, the only son of Anne Maria Hansen, Hans Dinesen's second wife) are given the last name of "Pedersen" or in one case "Peterson". AHC

Addendum: (This Discussion Added 27 Sep 2008)

The mystery of the Fourth wife, Kirsten Rasmusdatter (or Rasmusen) has been solved. She was sealed to Hans after her death by her daughter and by Hans in the Manti Temple. The last paragraph in the note above has the key to this mystery. Because Rasmine married the father of Christian's (son of Hans second wife Ane) wife she was considered a greatgranddaughter to Hans and was subsequently sealed, and on the same day, to Hans and Hans was sealed to her mother Kirsten; hence Kirsten is listed as a wife. Kirsten had already passed away when this took place, so in that regard, she should be thought of as a "spiritual wife" only. See other more detailed explanations of this on the www.denisonorg.org web page. AHC
